Songs and Fingerplays

What a Windy Day!
Tune: The Wheels on the Bus

The kites in the air are blowing in the wind,
Blowing in the wind, blowing in the wind.
The kites in the air are blowing in the wind,
What a windy day!
Continue with the following:
The leaves on the trees are...
The clouds in the sky are...
The flag on my lawn is...
The hair on my head is...

Blow, Wind, Blow!

Blow, wind, blow
[move arms back and forth]
All through the town
Blow wind blow
[move arms around]
Up and down
[move arms up and down]
From the left to the right,
[move arms left to right]
Blow, wind, blow
All through the night.
[slowly lower arms, rest head on hands]

Whoosh, Whoosh!

Source: Mailbox Magazine

Tune: If You’re Happy and You Know It
Oh, the wind blows on my [knees], on my [knees].
Whoosh, whoosh!
Oh, the wind blows on my [knees], on my [knees].
Whoosh, whoosh!
Oh, the wind blows all around,
With a whooshing, whooshing sound.
Oh, the wind blows on my [knees], on my [knees].
Whoosh, whoosh!

Continue with:
back, tummy, elbows, head, ankles, feet, arms, legs.

---

Theme: Hold Onto Your Hat

Books to Share

It’s March! What will the weather be?
The answer is blowin’ in the wind!

Like a Windy Day follows a little girl on a windy day adventure, exploring all that the wind is and does. Whose Hat Is That? is a playful, funny story about the wind, a hat, and a group of animals—each one thinks they look good wearing the hat, but who’s hat is it? Then it’s time to head outside with Bear and Mole for Kite Day, where a storm snaps the string and lands their kite in a surprising spot. WHOOSH!

- Like a Windy Day by Frank Asch and Devin Asch
- Whose Hat Is That? by Anita Bijsterbosch
- Whose Hat Is It? by Valeri Gorbachev
- Kite Day by Will Hillenbrand
- On a Snow-Melting Day by Buffy Silverman
- When the Wind Blows by Linda Booth Sweeney

Nursery Rhyme: Rock-a-bye Baby

Music: “Wings On A String”
from How To Be a Cloud by Kara Willey

Looking for more book ideas?
Check these out!

Next month’s theme will be Build It!
Whatever the Weather: Science Experiments and Art Activities That Explore the Wonders of Weather
by Annie Riechmann  PTC 551.6078 R

Don’t mourn a rainy day; instead, use it as a leaping-off point for outdoor adventures! The weather around us offers a perfect starting point for exploring the wonders of nature. The engaging science experiments and open-ended art activities in this book aim to give children ages four to eight a basic understanding of the science behind the weather that they experience each day, while also encouraging creativity, questioning, and a spirit of curiosity—perfect for budding naturalists. Full of accessible information about weather science and the way things work, this hands-on guide to exploring the natural world will inspire a sense of wonder and adventure—no matter what the day brings. - (Random House, Inc.)

Try a Fun Activity

Lion or Lamb Puppet
Welcome the wacky weather of March with this wild and woolly double-sided puppet!

Supplies:
- 2 small white paper plates
- strips of yellow, brown, and orange construction paper
- yellow tempera paint
- paintbrush
- cotton balls
- jumbo craft stick
- markers
- pencil
- glue
- stapler

Steps:
1. Paint one plate yellow. Set it aside to dry.
2. To make a lamb, use markers to draw a lamb’s face on the front of the unpainted plate. Then glue cotton balls around the rim of the plate.
3. To make a lion, use markers to draw a lion’s face on the front of the painted plate. Then curl one end of each paper strip around a pencil and unroll it. Glue the strips around the plate to resemble a mane.
4. Glue a craft stick to the back of the lion plate to use as a handle.
5. Place the lion and lamb plates back to back. Staple the plates together to form a two-sided puppet.

Hat Thief
[use pictures of hats with this rhyme]

The wind took my hat—oh dear, oh my!
The wind took my hat up into the sky.
“I need my hat,” the [baker] said.
“I need my hat to cover my head!”

Repeat with:
Firefighter, magician, clown,
Construction worker, baseball player, etc.

Five Bright Kites
Tune: Three Blind Mice
[Count on fingers]

Five bright kites.
Five bright kites.
See how they fly
Up in the sky.
One dives low
And one swoops high.
Two get tangled
And the last floats by.
I love to watch my kites in the sky.
Five bright kites.

Spring Winds
[Scarf activity]

Spring winds blow high.
Spring winds blow low.
They start out as breezes;
Then they grow and grow!
Round and round they go,
Swaying every treetop,
Sweeping across the grass,
Then, just like that, the winds stop!
[Let scarves float gently to the floor]

Music for Well-Being
Singing a lullaby while holding your child and rocking together is a great way to help him relax. Knowing how to take time out and relax is very important. Sharing quiet moments builds a relaxation routine for both of you. Singing lullabies to your older children will bring them back to that safe, calm, soft place and will also help to settle them down. So continue singing lullabies, even when your children are no longer babies.

The Early Literacy Kit by Betsy Diamant-Cohen and Saroj Ghoting

Questions or suggestions?
Contact: Melinda Chase @ 410-638-3151 ext. 6351 or chase@hcplonline.org