

Getting Started With Pressbooks

1 Register for a Pressbooks account

- Reach out to your local library to set up your own Pressbooks account.
- Creation of an account requires a username, email address and book title.

2 Add your book information

- This is where you add and edit information about your book, such as author name, subtitle, publication date, cover, etc.
- Here you can fill out as many or as few of the metadata fields as you would like.

3 Add and organize your text

- In this section you can edit your content and organize it into chapters.
- This is also where you have the ability to add front and back matter, such as a bibliography, introduction, or preface.

4 Select your book design theme

- Pressbooks offers over 50 unique themes to choose from for those who would like to alter the overall appearance of your content.

5 Export your book!

- Lastly, you export your own professional-grade ePUB, PDF and MOBI files with Pressbooks' simple one-button export panel.
